A high-angle, wide shot of a coastal landscape. In the foreground, a rugged, eroded rock formation with vertical ridges and some sparse green vegetation slopes down towards the beach. The beach is a wide, sandy expanse with some darker, wet patches. The ocean is filled with waves of varying sizes, with white foam visible as they break. The sky is not visible, but the lighting suggests a bright, sunny day.

Ethimo's collections share a deep connection—centred on well-being, harmonious balance, awareness and respect—with their surroundings. The aesthetic and practical aspects of each solution, as well its integration with its natural and architectural surroundings, stem from the pursuit of minimalist elegance and longevity. The decision to use high-quality sustainable materials, such as FSC-certified teak, goes hand-in-hand with the increasingly eco-friendly manufacturing processes employed, with the aim of protecting the resources and delicate balance of our planet.
